The Wizards Hideaway

KOMPAN[®]
Let's play

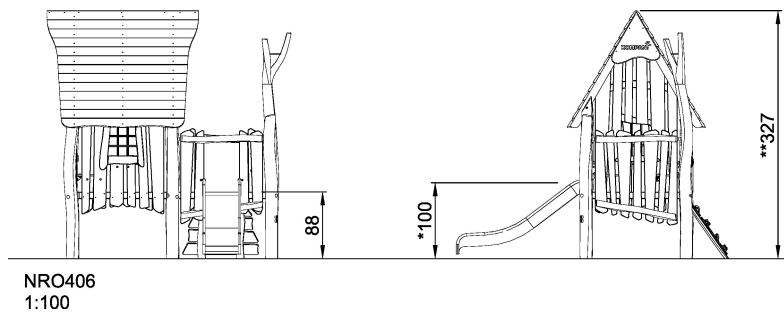

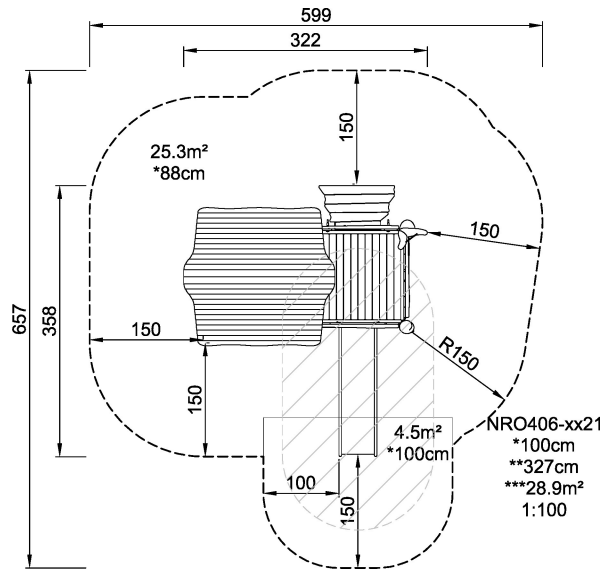

The magical Wizard's Hideaway with the elevated house and blue roof inspires dramatic play as few others. The benches and table inside stimulate social interaction and make longer stays desirable. A table on the side of the house invites meeting and provides a nice seat for care givers. The stair up to elevated position and the slide benefit motor skills such as cross coordination and spatial awareness. These are both fundamental for building up an understanding of the body in speed, time and space, a competence important for managing traffic safely. The stairway features a broad transfer platform and good handholds to support children of all abilities in accessing. All in all, hours of magic play together.
