3-Seater Carousel

The 3-seater Carousel adds spinning to swinging, making for a thrilling swing experience that attract children repeatedly. The soft rubber seats invite both lying, seated and standing positions. This allows for beginners as well as elevated level players. Apart from being irresistibly funny, the spinning and swinging movements train the sense of balance and space. These are crucial motor skills, important for all other physical skills, and eventually concentration skills for learning. To toddlers, swinging trains their sense of space as well as their focal tracking. The seated position in swinging trains the core muscles. When children jump off it builds their bone density. Socially, the three similar seats encourage parallel play for toddlers, and cooperation for preschoolers, both important social skills.
