

This compact play structure offers an ADA stairway allowing for a roomy climb, with room for an assistant, up to a platform from which a joyful loop of climbing up and sliding down can be done again and again. Between the towers a big meshed climbing net which can be climbed over and through is placed. The net is spacious enough to hang in the knees from and leads to the roomy house which makes a good meeting spot, from where the child can enjoy a stomach tickling slide ride to the ground level.
